

Surface Reporter Magazine

PARUL MITTAL
Director
Greenlam Industries
New Delhi

GREENLAM INDUSTRIES: MIKASA

Natural and raw-looking flooring is undeniably the most popular flooring trend in 2023. Greenlam Industries' Mikasa engineered wooden floors consist of three layers composed of real hardwood, a stabilizing core and a balancing layer. "Mikasa floor's latest offering includes two new collections (Weathered and Arte), 11 new colours and 24 new products, which are suitable for high-traffic flooring. While the Weathered collection comprises unique designs and natural features that define the character of wood, the Arte collection displays a bespoke work of art with an extraordinary collection of handcrafted floors. Available in two different size collections, ie, Pristine and Atmos of 15mm and 10mm engineered wooden flooring options, respectively," informs Mittal. The collection comes with Mikasa PlankLoc system that locks two planks together without using glue, thereby allowing ease of installation. Ideal for commercial and residential spaces, Mikasa floors come with a 30 years warranty.

