

WOOD STILL REIGNS

Trends may come and go but wood flooring is here to stay. With a plethora of flooring options available, we still see wood as the classic choice.

“
We believe that wooden flooring stands the test of time and will be very popular in 2019. They have always been in demand for their classic looks and durability that will last a lifetime. They also provide a safe and healthy environment as they do not accumulate dust particles.

— Parul Mittal, Director, Greenlam Industries

“

When it comes to floor layouts, there are various options to try. The top three trends are herringbone, parquet and the good old straight planks, each lending their own special touch. The criss-cross chevron pattern on your floors with the herringbone adds a certain 'je ne sais quoi' to your setting.

— Parul Mittal, Director, Greenlam Industries

