It's brewing sparkle and charm of festivities at home

Parul Mittal, director, Greenlam Industries, offers bold, metallic and euphoric decor ideas for Diwali

This festive season, uplift the home ambience with the freshness of natural materials, splendour of glittering accents and the allure of bright colours. It will make way for a healthy, clean and uplifting environment that will narrate the story of best memories lived at home.

Metallic mixology

Bring in a fusion of various metallic shades in the bedroom and blend it with light colour hues. Adorn the walls with wood grain texture and natural brown shade of Zebraipes from Greenlam Laminates to add a dash of panache and warmth altogether. Faunt a bronze and golden tapestry through cushions and blankets, which will seamlessly shine out against the wooden laminates. Greenlam Laminates will not only help beautify the space but also bid farewell to germs with its Safeguard Plus technology. These laminates come with health and hygiene features such as antivirus, antibacterial, and antifungal.

Euphoria of neutrals

Enliven the living room with a white sofa set against the exotic grain texture of Vintage Rovere from Decowood

Veneers. Its light brown colour will work dually as a balancing factor as well as make the space more comfortable and inviting for guests. Include grey floor vase and lamp in the space, which will add to the serene ambience. Opt for traditional artefacts, handmade wall hangings or earthen pots to infuse some elements of Indian culture as widely preferred during festivities in the country.

Go bold, go dark

A dark colour palette can make a space look bold yet intriguing. Layer the bed with chequered dark grey or blue colour sheets, and contrasting shade cushions and pillows like in beige which will calm the dark tones. Dedicate one corner of the room for a study area with minimal furniture in suave chocolate brown shade. The brushed texture of Noce Imperial floor from Mikasa Floors will subtly exude a timeless verve and flamboyance in the space.

Staying indoors has gained its own importance this year and with festive season around the corner, get on to trying these easy and delightful home décor ideas.
