As winter slowly wraps the world in its cold yet snug embrace, this is the time to revel in its true essence and bring its serenity to the interiors of one's home as well. Be it colors, patterns or textures, it's time to redefine the perception of these trends and gloriously incorporate them at home!

Read on to share in the secrets to reviving the quintessence of winter at home:

A blanket of white

Amidst the autumn leaves carrying hints of gold, reds and oranges, the winter season has subtly snuggled its way to our homes. All one wants to do is curl up in a cozy blanket with a hot cup of coffee and just enjoy the warm solace it offers.

Drawing inspiration from the simplistic serenity that snow brings, one can indulge in an all-white interior theme for their space with quirky accessories which is a win-win for this season. Decorate your room with Greenlam's Frosty White Laminates in matte finish and accentuate the look with white linen curtains and eccentric chandeliers. While they add drama to a space, all-white décor imbues perfect harmony in one's home. If you like contrasting interiors, add inkings of black decorations like a beautiful statement showpiece or a pretty little desk clock in bright tangerine. ●

ASTER CUCINE LAUNCHES NEW KITCHENS CONCEPT "PORTRAIT"

Ottimo, a design studio for Indo Italian furniture and interiors has brought to India new kitchens from the "Portrait" collection by Aster Cucine. Launched at the Salone Milano 2018, Portrait was born from the updating of traditional styles as a "back to the country" journey using innovative techniques. It is halfway between transitional and traditional style, hence appeals to a range of tastes.

What you see are refreshingly classic kitchens that take you back to the time bygone – the shabby-chic world of country side with its muted earthy colours and relaxed vibe. Designer Lorenzo Granocchia has skillfully revised and simplified the country kitchens and made them modern. Natural wood combined with interesting lacquered or veneer finishes create cosy and warm kitchens, with a domestic flavour. Says Granocchia: "Starting from signs and visions that take us back to distant roots, and at the same time solid and reassuring, the new Portrait collection lives in the present and projects us towards the future with a new lively energy." ●
